

Jaycee Cheong, Technical Consultant

I am a technical consultant at Tap London; a software consultancy specialised in marketing technology. Beside my growing software knowledge and business acumen, I am passionate for data analysis, digital design and product development too.

Skill set

Consultancy

Javascript

Adobe Campaign

Adobe CS

Faststats

Email Design

HTML

Project Management

Experiences

Technical Consultant, Tap London (2015)

In addition to day-to-day consultancy, implementation and internal training responsibilities, I lead the company in undertaking new ventures and building relationships with new partners. To date I have delivered products for Pizza Hut Delivery, Reed Elsevier, Samsung Australia, GiffGaff, and many more. My most recent sale was a delivery project worth over £50,000 to an existing client.

Product Manager, Gousto (2014-2015)

I was rapidly promoted to management within Gousto, a food e-commerce brand, within its Product department. It is one of my proudest achievements, and a valuable learning experience in start-up culture. I lead the team to innovate and improve our products using Agile Product Management.

Programme Manager, The Mini Cooking Club (2012)

As a volunteer programme manager, I managed fundraising and brand promotion events. I was responsible for hiring volunteers to help with our events or nutritional programme.

Specialist, Apple (2010-2012)

I worked in Apple Retail as a member of the repair and troubleshooting team, providing excellent customer service and high quality repair consultation. The customer service and interpersonal skills I learned have been invaluable.

Education

Bsc 2:1 in Human Nutrition, Mind the Product: Intro to Agile and Product Management

Get in touch

Email: jaycee.cheong04@gmail.com

LinkedIn: <http://linkd.in/1ceetCI>